

ESIS Appoints Eric Hamilton VP of Integrated Absence Management

ESIS, a Chubb company, is pleased to announce that Eric Hamilton has been appointed Vice President of Integrated Absence Management (IAM). In this role, Mr. Hamilton is responsible for overseeing the strategic direction of ESIS integrated absence management, including the development of innovative solutions that deliver better outcomes for clients and improve the leave process and experience for employees.

“We are thrilled to have Eric on board,” said Leigh Anne Sherman, President – ESIS. “His extensive knowledge of absence management and disability products will help make ESIS the absence management partner of choice for employers.”

Enhancing ESIS’ absence management products and solutions is a key priority for the company. ESIS plans to grow its Integrated Absence Management solution leveraging its existing platform and tenured team, and accelerate the Chubb WorkInsite™ offering, which integrates management of workers compensation, absence, and voluntary benefit claims.

“We are helping employers track, understand, and manage absence on an enterprise level,” said Mr. Hamilton. “I look forward to further developing our solutions to drive greater efficiencies and insights for employers.”

Mr. Hamilton brings 25 years of experience in overseeing absence management product development and strategy to his new role. He served as Vice President – Disability and Absence for Prudential and is a two-time member of the Integrated Benefits Institute Board of Directors. He received a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from Bates College and a Master of Business Administration from the University of Southern Maine. Mr. Hamilton also completed the Marketing Management Program from the Columbia Business School and the Executive Marketing Program from the Babson F.W. Olin Graduate School of Business. He will be based in Philadelphia, PA, and will report to Leigh Anne Sherman.

Eric’s extensive knowledge of absence management and disability products will help us establish ESIS as the absence management partner of choice for employers
